

Events and Engagement funding – apply now

Would you like funding for AI and data science events, sponsorships or public engagement? Apply to the Alan Turing Institute's events and engagement fund. Please visit the Turing website for the application forms and guidance.

Apply by 4th March 2019 and submit your application, or queries to events@turing.ac.uk

The Alan Turing Institute organises events, sponsorships and public engagement activities to drive forward research and innovation and lead the public conversation in data science and artificial intelligence. These are led primarily by researchers from within our university partner network and funding is awarded by a steering group.
