

Contents

Abbreviations	vii
Preface	viii
1 Writing the despatch: Wellington and official communication Dr C.M. Woolgar, University of Southampton	1
2 Wellington in the context of long-term military history Professor J.M. Black, University of Exeter	26
3 Peace negotiations with Sindhia and the Raja of Berar W.A.C. Halliwell, University of Southampton	48
4 Failure by deputy: Arthur Wellesley and Colonel Murray, 1804 A.S. Bennell, Chichester	69
5 What every 'official' man seeks — patronage and the management of Parliament: the experience of two Chief Secretaries for Ireland, 1802-9 K. Robson, University of Southampton	87
6 Lord Cathcart, Sir Arthur Wellesley and the British attack on Copenhagen in 1807 Dr T. Munch-Petersen, University College London	104
7 Wellington and Portuguese reservations about the Old Alliance Emeritus Professor C. Willis, University of Manchester	123

vi

CONTENTS

8 Foreign military command and early nationalism in Spain during the Peninsular War Professor A. Gil Novales, Complutense University, Madrid	143
9 The Duke of Wellington and the Spanish Revolution 1812-14 Dr C.J. Esdaile, University of Liverpool	163
10 Commanders-in-chief: Wellington and Berkeley, 1809-12 Dr B. De Toy, Lacey, Washington	188
11 Wellington and Waterloo Emeritus Professor N. Gash, University of St Andrews	215
Index	239
Maps
1 Gujerat and Malwa, 1804	70
2 Denmark, 1807	106
3 Copenhagen, 1807	111
4 The Waterloo Campaign, 1815	219
Plates
1 The Albuera despatch, 18 May 1811	x