

UK Marine Technology Postgraduate Conference MTPC 2011

9th – 10th June 2011

Sponsored by:

The 2nd UK Marine Technology Postgraduate Conference will be hosted by The University of Southampton on 9th & 10th June 2011.

With the aim to bring together postgraduate students and early career researchers in marine technology to share and discuss their current research in a low pressure environment. The opportunity is provided to present individual work, understand what research is being undertaken at other UK institutions and to network and build contacts for the future. The conference sessions will be chaired by appropriate academics and industrialists, who will be able to further enhance the knowledge sharing that the conference aims to promote.

Typical themes include:

- Ship Design
- Marine Structures
- Hydrodynamics
- Marine Engineering
- Offshore/Pipeline Engineering
- Small Craft and Yacht Design
- Ship Propulsion
- Marine Renewables

Deadline for submission of abstracts by presenting authors is Monday 16th May 2011
