Revd Dr James William Parkes was born on 22 December 1896 at the Manor of Rohais on the Island of Guernsey. He was the son of Henry Parkes, the falconer on the estate, and Annie Katherine Bell, an author. Parkes was educated at Elizabeth College, Guernsey, and between 1919 and 1923, Hertford College, Oxford, on an open classical scholarship. In 1916 he enlisted as a private in the Artists Rifles. He became a second lieutenant in the Queen's Royal West Surrey Regiment in 1917 and captain and adjutant of the Nineteenth Queen's in 1918. Whilst a student at Oxford, Parkes became interested in the Student Christian Movement; he remained involved with the organisation after his graduation. His main activity at Oxford, however, centred on the League of Nations' Union, of which he was university secretary. Parkes graduated with a degree in theology in 1923. The same year he was ordained a deacon and in 1926 was ordained a priest. He received his MA in 1926 and his D.Phil. in 1934. Parkes was never to work as a parish priest, although he was attached to a number of organisations throughout his career and was one of the founders of the Council of Christians and Jews. He was the International Study Secretary of the Student Christian Movement, 1923-6; Warden, Student Movement House, London, 1926-8; Study Secretary of the International Student Service, Geneva, 1928-34; Chairman of the National Committee Common Wealth, 1942-3, and Vice President, 1943; Charles William Eliot lecturer at the Jewish Institute of Religion, New York, 1946-7; President of the Jewish Historical Society of England, 1949-51; and Director of the Parkes Library, 1956-64. In 1969 Parkes was presented with an honorary doctorate from the University of Southampton and in 1970 was made an Honorary Fellow of the Hebrew University of Jerusalem.

Parkes dedicated the greater part of his life to combating anti-Semitism, which he first encountered in European universities while working for the International Student Service. His University of Oxford D.Phil. thesis, published as The conflict of the church and the synagogue: a study in the origins of antisemitism (London, 1934), established him as a specialist in the fields of Jewish-Christian relations and the history of anti-Semitism. He wrote extensively on Judaism, Christianity and anti-Semitism both under his own name and under the pseudonym of John Hadham.<sup>1</sup>

The archive contains a mixture of material relating to Parkes' work and life, personal papers and material relating to the Parkes Library. It includes correspondence and working papers relating to publications by James Parkes under his own name and under the pseudonym of John Hadham; broadcasts; sermons; articles and reviews; correspondence with organisations and individuals; photographs and family correspondence; poetry and sketchbooks;<sup>2</sup> and papers relating to the administration of the Parkes Library as an entity itself and as part of the University of Southampton Library.

The first part of the catalogue, MS 60/1-29, is based on an arrangement of the Parkes archive made by G.Hampson in 1968.<sup>3</sup> This arrangement included material which was held at Iwerne Minster as well as <sup>1</sup> Parkes' published works are listed in A bibliography of the printed works of James Parkes with selected quotations ed. S.Sugarman, D.Bailey and D.A.Pennie (Southampton, 1977). His views and biography are discussed in, among others, R.A.Everett Christianity without antisemitism: James Parkes and the Jewish-Christian encounter (Oxford, 1993); M.C.Fierman Revd Dr James Parkes (California State University, Fullerton, Department of Religious Studies, seminar paper series, 13, 1976); and A.Razzouk The partisan views of Revd James Parkes (Beruit, 1970).

<sup>2</sup> A small quantity of material relating to the service of Parkes in the army in World War I, including sketchbooks and photographs, are in the Peter Liddle archive at the Brotherton Library, Leeds.

<sup>3</sup> The former reference for this material was BZ 7051 PAR. It was subdivided into a number of sections, 1-29, which have been retained. It should be noted, however, that the catalogue did not use a complete numerical sequence. There are no sections 3, 5, 12, 25-6 or 28. There are similar Southampton. Material which was subsequently returned from Iwerne Minster has now been incorporated into the arrangement where possible. It should be noted, however, that some material was not returned from Iwerne Minster and its has not been possible to trace its whereabouts.<sup>4</sup> The second part of the catalogue, MS 60/30 onwards, is composed of additional deposits of Parkes archive material which were not included in the original arrangement of the collection.

gaps in the numbering within these sections. Gaps in the numerical sequence do not therefore denote that material is missing, rather that the intervening numbers were not used. Those parts of BZ 7051 PAR/29 which contained the Lewis Way and Charles Singer collections now form MS 85 and MS 94 respectively.

<sup>4</sup> Material which has not been traced is: a quantity of personal and estate papers from MS60/1 and MS60/2; MS60/6/6/3 'Good God as drama'; MS60/6/8/2-3 copies of 'The Doctrine of the Trinity' and of a Cambridge University Sermon; MS60/7/7/1 The emergence of the Jewish problem: files with wartime work at Chatham House; MS60/7/13/2 contract for A history of Jewish people; MS60/7/37 Spanish translations in Argentina; MS60/8/3-4 BBC correspondence and copies of broadcasts; MS15/70 papers of the Sephardic Community Council, Jerusalem; pre-1940 material of MS60/16/717 for Charles Singer; MS60/16/746 papers for William Temple; MS17/83 Paul Guinness's plans; and MS60/17/87 a pamphlet of Sir A. Buzzard.
